

Fresh Vegetables Are Supplied to Families

In line with the switchover of the national epidemic prevention work into the top-level emergency anti-epidemic system, the city of Chongjin in North Hamgyong Province in a northern part of the Democratic People's Republic of Korea is supplying in time fresh vegetables from the Jungphyong Vegetable Greenhouse Farm so that the local people would not feel inconvenience in their dietary life.